Dear brothers and sisters all over the world,

The Romanian collectivity feels very fortunate to invite you for the period between 6- 31 August 2004 to the NirmalArt International Summer Camp in Romania, which will take place in the Bogda village in a very beautiful hilly area near forest, 50 km away from the Hungarian border and 40 km away from Timisoara, the city which was vibrated by the presence of our Holy Mother in 1992, when She blessed us with an auspicious Diwali Puja.

Last year "Sahaja Yoga - Romania" organized a wonderful summer camp for music with the Romanian "Sangeet Lahari" sahaj group in the mountains. Even though we thought that only few people will come, it turned out to be a great success and we had many brothers and sisters from outside Romania also. Many yogis who didn't think they could sing or play an instrument discovered a great potential inside themselves, and for one month the sweet sound of music filled all the hearts with pure joy.

Early morning meditations, shoebeat, havans and small pujas allowed us to go deeper into the realm of spirituality and colectivity, we tied great friendships and enlarged our knowledge horizons in the practice of satsang.

This year we have decided to make it an international summer camp, so that more many sahaja yogis could join in this great festival of pure art & pure joy. Apart from music, the yogis will be able to learn the basics of kathak indian classical dance, painting, sculpture and ceramic work. We will have lovely teachers who first of all are lovely yogis and who are very eager to share their knowledge with you.

In the field of Indian classical music, one can learn:

- harmonium, classical vocal & bhajans - with Mimi Sturza
- tabla, dholak, bhajans & sahaj mantras - with Sudhir Bunda
- flute, guitar & synthetiser - with Andrei Dascalu
- trumpet - with Dan Huides

If you have your own instrument which is different from the ones mentioned above, you can learn indian classical music on your own instrument. There are few instruments on which you can study in the camp, but the yogis who have their own harmoniums, tablas etc are encouraged to bring them to the camp.

Kathak classical dance can be learned with Anda Albutiu

Painting - with Steluta Nistorescu

Sculpture and ceramic work/pottery - with Serban Vrabiescu

First of all it is a sahaj camp and all the sahaja yogis are most welcome, even if they just wish to be in the middle of the collectivity and enjoy, not dedicating to a particular studying.

The cost for one day (including accomodation, food and lessons) is of 10 Euro. There are 68 beds in the camp in rooms of 2 and 6 beds and a lot of place for people coming with their sleeping bags. Showers with hot water, many tables for table-tennis (we will have small championships), a large swimming pool - all the comfort for us to fully enjoy our time there.

Shri Krishna Puja on national level and the raksha-bandhan ceremony will be celebrated in the camp.

We will be back with other details about how to reach NirmalArt camp in Bogda, Romania.
